

WELCOME RECEPTION DESK

Versatile elegant design for contemporary reception areas

DESIGN BRIEF

Welcome glass reception desks are an elegant modern design suitable for contemporary reception areas. The Welcome reception desk is designed to meet the needs of businesses who look for a stylish contemporary design that is functional as well as aesthetically pleasing.

Welcome is available as a full-size, single piece or modular glass reception desk for flexible configuration. This contemporary desk design, with glass top, creates a clean, light appearance that complements many contemporary interior design styles. The glass panels or legs come in four distinctive style variations - walnut, cherry, dark wenge or stainless to match your decor.

The Welcome reception desk is available as a bespoke design to provide the optimum tailor-made solution for your reception area. For example, we can create units that are rectangular, L-shaped, curve-fronted with any colour glass (including frosted or black). To add a further touch of distinction, you have the option of printing, etching or engraving your corporate logo or any words or images of your choice on the glass top.

This glass reception desk also comes with the highly-practical option of cable management, which means that all of your technology cabling can be run discretely up through the pedestal legs or panels.

The bespoke shaped desk top is made from a variety of toughened safety glass, conforming to BS 6206A. The columns or panels are simply screwed into bosses pre-bonded to the glass for stability and quick, easy assembly. This contemporary glass table features Futureglass' UV bonding technique for safety and long life.

The Welcome reception desk, like other glass contract furniture from Futureglass, is a superb example of contemporary British design, manufactured in the UK.
